

To whom it may concern, it is my understanding that you are planning on changing the anti telephone sales list. Please reconsider. I am a mother who stays at home and until I was placed on this list I was getting 5 to 6 sales calls a day. The worst of which would be during our dinner time. I don't mind dealing with solicitation by mail or by email. These I can deal with on my own time. These people do not take no for the answer and you literally have to hang up on them. We even had telephone calls at 9:00 am on a Saturday. So please, please, do not change this wonderful law.
